A $125.00 cheque from the Quinn Stevenson Memorial Athletic and Spirit Trust prompts the Regina Midget AA Pacers to pay it forward to Regina youth in a huge way. Thanks to the generosity of many, they've turned that $125.00 into over $1800.00 of support...and still have $35.00 left over

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – July 10, 2015

After coming in second at a baseball tournament in Saskatoon, The Regina Midget AA Pacers received an extra cheque for $125.00 from the Quinn Stevenson Memorial Athletic and Spirit Trust with the directive to “pay it forward” to the baseball community however they saw fit. The Pacers players decided to organize a skills camp for youth who are interested in baseball, but not likely to be part of an organized team.

Queen Elizabeth Park (on Broadway Ave, Between McAra St. and Centre St.)
Regina, SK. from 1:00 p.m.- 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 11th.

Thanks to the generous support of the Pacers' families, Dream Brokers Regina, Baseball Regina and Western Cycle and Sports, the Pacers will host a skills camp for 20 youth, aged 7-10 years. The youth will practice and then play a fun game with the Pacers players. They will take more than the memory of the day with them when they walk away. Each child will receive a t-shirt, hat, previously-loved glove and bat, and a new baseball. A few will be able to take home some catchers equipment and other miscellaneous items. They will also go home with a full belly, thanks to Mr. Sub.

The support received has been so amazing that the Pacers contacted the Stevenson family to share the story. Quinn's parents, Bonny and Craig Stevenson, plan on attending the event on Saturday to be a part of another action inspired by the memory of their son.

In case of inclement weather on Saturday, the camp will happen on Sunday, July 12th, from 1:00-3:00 at Queen Elizabeth Park.

About The Quinn Stevenson Memorial Athletic and Spirit Trust

Quinn Stevenson was an engaged, involved, driven and active member of the Saskatoon community, especially the sports community. graduated. Additionally, they created the Quinn Stevenson Memorial Athletic and Spirit Trust, which allows them to give back to the community in many other ways. The trust recently provided additional cash prizes at the Quinn Stevenson Memorial Midget AA Baseball Tournament in Saskatoon, with a request that the winners give back to their baseball community.
